

August 2007, Brazil,
site of the Southern Hemisphere's most important financial and derivatives sector event.

Schedule now!

22 23 24 25
*Campos do Jordao
BRAZIL*

3rd
22-25 / August 2007
Campos do Jordao
(Sao Paulo, Brazil)

International Derivatives and Financial Market Conference

It's time to make those important plans for 2007

In August of 2007, the Brazilian Mercantile & Futures Exchange (BM&F) will hold the 3rd International Derivatives and Financial Market Conference, the most important financial and derivatives sector event in the Southern Hemisphere.

2003 and 2005: Quality and expertise side by side

The more than 700 attendees at the first and second editions of the International Derivatives and Financial Market Conference held in August of 2003 and 2005 included CEOs, CFOs, fund managers, chief financial decision-makers from Brazil's foremost companies and major foreign investors. Prominent academics and top professionals from leading law firms and consultancies were also in attendance (see chart).

Among the guest speakers were such dignitaries as former Brazilian President, Fernando Henrique Cardoso, Brazilian Central Bank Governor, Henrique de Campos Meirelles, Nobel prize winning economist, Myron Scholes, and the president of Citigroup International and former First Deputy Managing Director of the International Monetary Fund, Stanley Fischer. Our list of previous guest speakers has also included highly acclaimed specialists and leading academics such as Carol Alexander (Reading Business School), Emanuel Derman (Columbia University), John Hull (University of Toronto), Kenneth Rogoff (Harvard University), Paul Krugman (Princeton University), Paul Wilmott (Wilmott Associates) and Philippe Jorion (University of California at Irvine).

In 2007, we will repeat this winning formula by bringing together, from Brazil and around the world, conference participants of superb professional caliber and guest speakers of great renown. Once again we will strive to provide the ideal venue for yet another ground breaking meeting where quality and expertise can stand side by side.

2007: The challenge continues

Needless to say, this market is dynamic and the innovations are endless.

At the 2007 Conference, the following topics of major importance will be addressed by a number of the top specialists in their respective fields: Potential and risks of implementation of the new derivatives market; credit derivatives; asset allocation; pricing of complex derivatives; hedge for pension funds; monetary and economic policies; perspectives for sustained global economic growth.

Location and date

The 3rd International Derivatives and Financial Market Conference will once again be held in Campos do Jordao, often referred to as the Switzerland of Brazil due to its temperate mountain climate and alpine-like geography which is surrounded by fertile valleys and lush green forests. Conveniently located between two of Brazil's major economic centers (Sao Paulo and Rio de Janeiro), Campos do Jordao has a state-of-the-art convention center with a 900-seat auditorium and a first rate exposition area.

The city is also an important tourist destination, which is well served by an ample network of top-notch hotels that will provide comfortable lodging for all of the Conference participants and their companions. There are also many excellent restaurants to choose from and numerous outdoor leisure activities.

*See you in August 2007
Be sure to include this important event in your 2007 agenda.
It is a must for all of your company's strategic investment decision-makers.*

When

August 22–25, 2007

Where

Campos do Jordao Convention Center
Campos do Jordao, Sao Paulo, Brazil

Early reservations

conference@bmf.com.br

Further information may be obtained from BM&F in New York at 212-750-4197 and in Sao Paulo at 5511-3119-2503

